Smith, 60 years of age, husband of the woman who two days ago received burns when her clothing caught fire from which she died, now rests in a cell in the county jail charged with the murder of his wife.

His arrest came after developments which led prosecutor Andrews to believe that instead of Mrs. Smith being the victim of an accident, she died from burns caused by flames which her own husband had started.

Smith recently served a 90 day sentence at the county jail for wife beating.

FLANARY CASE IS GIVEN TO THE JURY

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 19.—Arguments in the case of Mrs. Fannie L. Flanary, charged with the murder of her husband, were concluded this morning and District Judge Seay charged the jury at 12:30 this afternoon.

Flanary was a postal clerk and was shot and killed on the street several months ago.

ROAD IS ENJOINED FROM CROSSING BAY

Austin, Texas, Nov. 19.—District Judge Calhoun has granted a temporary injunction at the request and upon the petition of the attorney general's department restricting the Rockport & Aransas Pass railroad from building across Red Fish bay, Corpus Christi channel or any other bays or channels in that vicinity. It is claimed information was received that the government would cut off further appropriations for the port if railroads were permitted to build across the channels.

The attorney general will ask the next legislature to enact a law regulating the building of railroads on the coast and across channels.

ROOSEVELT WISHES NEW MEXICO WELL.
